Dear Valued Users of Collins Dollies,

Over the past year, the worldwide supply chain disruptions have greatly impacted production at Collins Manufacturing as well as countless other businesses in the United States and all over the world. Supply chain disruptions mixed with huge increases in demand has extended our lead times like never before. We deeply apologize for all the delayed orders while we work hard to circumvent these supply chain issues. We cannot express our gratitude enough for your patience and understanding.

Our focus has always been on providing the safest and highest-quality products for end-users and first responders. We also take great pride in offering and maintaining fair prices.

For the first time since March of 2019, we finally had to increase our prices to account for the rapid inflation and dramatic increased cost of materials. However, to supplement the price increase and continue to offer as much value as possible, we have added a second year to our warranty. To register, please complete and submit the extended warranty card found at the end of Collins Hi-Speed Dolly User Manual.

Also, as we get closer to releasing the new G7 Hi-Speed Dolly, we will begin shipping current gen-6 (SLZ) Hi-Speed Dolly sets with the G7's all new aluminum center-cambered T-12 Cross Rail, which extends out to 104-inches span. Because of the great response in testing and at tow shows, this will become the new standard for Collins Cross Rails. We will make an announcement on the Collins Dollies Facebook page when this is to take place.

We truly value you and your business, and we are honored to be able to offer safe and high-quality products that support you and your profession. Thank you for your service and we look forward to continuing to offer our support in the future.

Sincerely,

Collins Manufacturing
